Dear Shareholder:

We are pleased to present this Semi-Annual report on the Commonwealth International Series Trust for the six months ended April 30, 2005.

Commonwealth Australia/New Zealand Fund

The Australia/New Zealand Fund’s net asset value (“NAV”) as of April 30, 2005 was U.S. $15.75 per share compared to U.S. $16.39 per share on October 31, 2004. On December 29, 2004, the Australia/New Zealand Fund made distributions of U.S. $1.72 per share. The six month holding period return for the Australia/New Zealand Fund is 6.5%, assuming reinvestment of gross distributions.

RETURNS AS OF APRIL 30, 2005	6 MO	1 YR
Commonwealth Australia/New Zealand Fund	6.5%	21.3%
Australian All Ordinaries Index ¹	11.9%*	32.0%*
NZSX 50 Free Float Total Return Index ²	13.7%*	32.6%*

Management’s Discussion of Fund Performance

The Commonwealth Australia/New Zealand Fund gained 6.5% over the six month period, underperforming indexes representing both the Australian and New Zealand equity markets. Those indexes gained 11.9% and 13.7% in U.S. Dollar terms, respectively. The Fund’s investments in fixed income as well as the relatively small investment in the energy sector were factors contributing to the underperformance relative to the equity benchmarks. We believe the Fund’s longer-term performance has continued to be competitive relative to the asset classes in which it invests in, which includes an allocation to fixed income.

New Zealand's impressive economic growth in recent years has been a result of strong domestic demand as well as a strong world economy. While strong economic growth continued in 2004, the pace of growth declined as rising interest rates and a stronger currency began to take their toll on the economy. Following the above average growth rate in GDP of 4.6% (year-over-year) in 2003, economic growth slowed to 3.6% in 2004 and preliminary figures for the first quarter of 2005 are pointing towards further slowing of the economy.

Australia's economy has also experienced several consecutive years of above-average economic growth, but supply-side constraints resulting from an inadequate transportation infrastructure combined with a growing shortage of skilled workers have recently limited the growth of the economy. Growth in GDP for the fourth quarter of 2004 was 1.5% (year-over-year), a decrease in the rate of growth compared to the 4.5% (year-over-year) growth rate achieved in the fourth quarter of 2003. In addition to increases in consumer goods imports, the deterioration of the current account deficit, at 7% of GDP in the first quarter of 2005, was also negatively affected by a drought that has impacted nearly half of the nation's farmland, curbing farm exports this year.

Commonwealth Global Fund

The Global Fund's NAV as of April 30, 2005 was U.S. $14.12 per share compared to U.S. $13.89 per share on October 31, 2004. On December 29, 2004, the Global Fund made distributions of U.S. $0.45 per share. The six month holding period return for the Global Fund is 4.7%, assuming reinvestment of gross distributions.

RETURNS AS OF APRIL 30, 2005	6 MO	1 YR
Commonwealth Global Fund	4.7%	15.0%
MSCI World Index ³	6.0%	10.9%

Management's Discussion of Fund Performance

The Commonwealth Global Fund gained 4.7% over the last six month period, underperforming its benchmark index, the MSCI World Index³, which gained 6.0%. The Fund's relative underweighting towards the energy sector adversely affected the Fund's six month performance as the energy sector gained 13.5%, making it the best performing sector in the index over that period. Additionally, the Fund's higher allocation towards mid-cap securities relative to the benchmark was a significant detractor compared to the index, as concerns about the sustainability of the world economic growth and higher interest rates affected investor sentiment towards small and mid-cap companies to a greater degree than did those factors affect large-cap companies.

COMMONWEALTH GLOBAL FUND COUNTRY/REGION ALLOCATION*
North America	44%

Percentages are based on total market value of investment securities. Holdings subject to change.*

On balance, we believe that the global economy will run on a slower track this year compared to last year. Higher average interest rates and continued high oil prices are likely to take a toll on the rate of economic activity in the months ahead. We think that business expansion will prove sustainable, but we also sense that growth may ease unless oil prices decline. Our preference for broad diversification and income producing equities with reasonable valuations remains very much intact.

COMMONWEALTH INTERNATIONAL SERIES TRUST

Growth outside of the U.S. and China remains low. Euro area GDP growth stood at 1.5% (year-over-year) at the end of 2004 and moderated to 1.3% (year-over-year) in the first quarter of 2005, reflecting limited progress on structural reforms in the region. Although corporate profits have been on the rise over the last two years, weak domestic demand continues and the unemployment rate in the region, which has remained above 8% since 2002, stood at 8.9% at the end of April. Consumer related demand continues to fuel growth in the world's largest economy with GDP growth in the U.S. for the first quarter of the year increasing 3.5% versus the fourth quarter of 2004.

COMMONWEALTH INTERNATIONAL SERIES TRUST

Commonwealth Japan Fund

The Japan Fund's NAV on April 30, 2005 is U.S. $3.57 per share compared to U.S. $3.61 per share on October 31, 2004, a decrease of 1.1%. During the six month period, the Japan Fund made no distributions.

Commonwealth Japan Fund	-1.1%	-10.5%
TOPIX Index ⁴	4.8%*	0.2%*

Management's Discussion of Fund Performance

The Commonwealth Japan Fund decreased 1.1% over the last six months, underperforming its benchmark index, the Tokyo Stock Price Index or TOPIX⁴, which gained 4.8% in U.S. Dollar terms. We are disappointed in the Fund's performance. The underperformance may be explained in part by our strategy of investing more heavily in large-cap stocks and in industrials and infrastructure related companies, which have not performed as well as the broader market. The small size of the Fund results in a higher expense ratio because of the costs that have to be absorbed by a smaller asset base (see further discussion under Expense ratios and how they impacted Fund performance) and a Fund share turnover rate that was higher than that of our other Funds, in each case relative to their size.

COMMONWEALTH INTERNATIONAL SERIES TRUST

Japan remains more reliant on external demand than is common for such a large economy. External demand helped advance Japan's cyclical prospects in 2003-04. Much of the expansion in Japan's exports reflected close trade relations with rapidly growing Asian countries. Many Japanese companies are well positioned to participate in China's growth through ventures in China. Increased offshore production by Japanese companies has also given rise to increased trade. Over the long run, the efficiency gains from this specialization of the production process could help raise returns substantially above recent (depressed) norms, fostering economic resilience.

Commonwealth Real Estate Securities Fund

The Real Estate Securities Fund's NAV as of April 30, 2005 was U.S. $11.10 per share compared to U.S. $10.54 per share on October 31, 2004. On December 29, 2004, the Real Estate Securities Fund made distributions of $.08 per share. RETURNS AS OF APRIL 30, 2005	6 MO	1 YR
Commonwealth Real Estate Securities Fund	6.0%	23.0%
Morgan Stanley REIT Index ⁵	7.2%	35.1%

Management's Discussion of Fund Performance

The Commonwealth Real Estate Securities Fund gained 6.0% over the six month period, modestly underperforming its benchmark index, the Morgan Stanley REIT Index⁵, which gained 7.2%. The Fund's underperformance of the Morgan Stanley REIT Index was due in part to the Fund having a larger allocation of cash and cash equivalents as the Fund continued to build its core portfolio during the period. Additionally, the Fund's higher allocation to Mortgage REIT's during the period was a significant detractor, as concerns about interest rates dampened returns among Mortgage REIT securities.

COMMONWEALTH INTERNATIONAL SERIES TRUST

Real estate stock prices and valuations have been impacted by interest rate uncertainty during the first quarter of 2005. The asset class declined in January along with the rest of the market as interest rate fears rattled many non-dedicated investors who came to the REIT market looking for yield. As a result, the sector has become more sensitive to headline economic releases. However, during April, REITs regained a majority of the losses sustained since the beginning of the year.

COMMONWEALTH INTERNATIONAL SERIES TRUST

Portfolio Management Review

In the following interview, portfolio manager Robert W. Scharar discusses Commonwealth International Series Trust's operations, strategy and the market environment during the six-month period ended April 30, 2005.

Who is the adviser?

The Funds' investment adviser is FCA Corp ("FCA"). FCA is a fee-based financial planning and investment counseling firm located at 5847 San Felipe, Suite 850, Houston, Texas 77057. FCA and its predecessors have been in business since 1975.

Why do our Funds include shares of foreign companies?

We believe a portfolio containing foreign securities offers an investor better diversification and less correlation when compared with a portfolio invested entirely in domestic securities. In general, we think that investors should consider international investing not only for diversification, but also because we believe there really is no well-founded reason for investors to limit themselves to the U.S. stock market. A well diversified investment portfolio includes an allocation to international as well as domestic markets because investing outside the U.S. provides the traditional benefits of diversification—the potential to diminish risk and achieve more consistent long-term performance. It also offers exposure to many of the world's leading companies and fastest growing economies.

What are ADRs and how do we use them?

American depositary receipts (ADRs). Certificates issued by a U.S. bank and traded in this country as domestic shares. The shareholder is entitled to all dividends and capital gains. The certificates represent the number of foreign securities the U.S. bank holds in that security's country of origin. ADRs make trading foreign securities in the U.S. easier by eliminating currency exchange, legal obstacles, foreign ownership transfers and the need to trade on a foreign exchange. ADRs are also called American depositary shares. (For more information on ADRs visit the Bank of New York's website, www.adrbny.com)

Because Depositary Receipts (ADRs) trade on a U.S. stock exchange, the Funds may purchase an ADR, as opposed to the ordinary shares, thus avoiding additional foreign custodial expenses. In addition, ADRs traded in the U.S. are denominated in U.S. Dollars, thus eliminating the need to convert U.S. Dollars into foreign currency. When feasible and given proper liquidity in the security, the Funds will generally purchase ADRs instead of foreign shares. Although ADRs are U.S. denominated securities, the value of the underlying security (ordinary shares), as well as fluctuations in foreign currency rates, will have a material impact on the value of the ADR. The price of the ADR may be at a premium or discount to the underlying security it represents. ADRs are not available for the majority of foreign equities.

Our Funds' Portfolio Turnover

Higher levels of portfolio purchase and sale activity by a Fund result in higher transaction costs and may also result in more realized capital gains or losses, the impact of which is borne by the Fund's shareholders. Each Fund generally invests in equity securities with the view to hold them long-term. The portfolios' securities are evaluated on their long-term prospects. The Fund may experience higher or lower turnover ratios in certain years as the portfolio is rebalanced to take advantage of long-term opportunities, share proceeds are invested, securities are sold to cover redeemed shares (see Fund Share Turnover) or portfolio positions are allocated between fixed income and equity securities.

Fund Share Turnover & How It May Impact Fund Performance

Share turnover represents the purchase and sale of the shares of the Commonwealth International Series Trust by Fund Shareholders. Share turnover in the Australia/New Zealand Fund and the Japan Fund are relatively high on an absolute basis when compared to the size of these Funds because some investors, trading through some brokerage firms, have engaged in many purchases and sales of the Funds. Frequent Fund share turnover by certain shareholders may result in higher portfolio turnover and costs which are borne by all shareholders, may impact the amount of Fund assets maintained in short-term investments, the amount of Fund borrowings and may adversely impact Fund investment performance. The Commonwealth International Series Trust Board of Trustees has been advised of this and continues to closely monitor the situation. In this regard, the Funds' Advisor, the Funds' Administrator and the Funds' Transfer Agent have been directed to monitor and report to the Board the extent to which such trading occurs. The following are some of the steps that have been taken: the Funds' use of American Depositary Receipts (ADR's) and other U.S. priced securities as investment vehicles; the use of in-the-money equity call options; the establishment of lines of credit to lessen the need, or allow additional time, to liquidate longer term positions to cover redemptions that exceed the cash position of the Funds; limitations on the distribution of real time portfolio holdings information or other information of the type sought by short-term traders; and certain accounts have been blocked from purchasing the Funds' shares.

While the Funds seek to identify and restrict trading perceived as harmful to the Funds, the Funds receive purchase and sales orders through financial intermediaries and cannot always know or detect frequent trading that may be facilitated by the use of intermediaries or by the use of combined or omnibus accounts at those intermediary firms. For these and other reasons, excess short-term trading that may be harmful to the interests of the Fund and long-term investors may occur. The Funds or their agent may request representations of compliance with the market-timing procedures from parties involved in the distribution of Fund shares and administration of shareholder accounts. Accordingly the Fund does not accommodate market timing.

Expense ratios and how they impact Fund performance.

The operating expense ratio of the Funds which invest overseas can be expected to be higher than that of an investment company investing exclusively in securities of United States issuers since certain expenses to the Funds (such as custodial, currency exchange, valuation and communications costs) are higher and because there are expenses associated with international investing that do not exist in domestic investing (such as currency exchange expenses).

As with every mutual fund, size has an impact on the expense ratio. Typically, larger funds can have lower expense ratios as there is more of an opportunity to spread out among a greater number of shareholders the fixed and semi-fixed costs necessary to operate a mutual fund. These expenses are allocated on a daily basis among all shareholders. This can be evidenced by the Commonwealth's own Australia/New Zealand Fund which grew from assets of $4.534 million and an expense ratio of 5.74% on 10/31/01 to assets of $50.72 million and an expense ratio of 1.88% on 4/30/05. The Japan Fund, with $6.21 million in assets, on the other hand, to date has not been able to attract as many assets and therefore it has an expense ratio of 3.01%.

COMMONWEALTH INTERNATIONAL SERIES TRUST

Administrative Fee Arrangements

Each Fund pays FCA Corp., as the Advisor, 0.75% per annum of its total net asset value, excluding the asset value that one Fund invests in another Fund of the complex. InCap Service Company (“InCap”), the Administrator, with the assistance of Matrix Capital Group, Inc. provide services for all aspects of the Funds’ operations other than the management of its investments and are paid by each Fund for those services. Each Fund bears the cost of its accounting services which includes maintaining their financial books and records and calculating their daily net asset value. Each Fund also pays transfer agency fees, custodial fees, legal and auditing fees, the costs of reports to stockholders and the Securities and Exchange Commission, fees under the Service and Distribution Plan, Directors Fees and all other ordinary expenses not specifically borne by the Administrator. InCap is not related to the Advisor.

Other Matters

Government and self-regulatory authorities have instituted investigations of various practices in the mutual fund industry, including investigations relating to market-timing, administration and books and recordkeeping requirements, among other things. These investigations cover investment advisors, distributors and transfer agents of mutual funds, as well as other firms. Commonwealth International Series Trust and FCA Corp are currently the subject of such investigation. Commonwealth International Series Trust and FCA Corp have complied with all requests to furnish documents and testimony relating to such activity. Commonwealth International Series Trust is incurring expenses in connection with this proceeding and related regulatory activities, a portion of which will be borne by the Funds and therefore impact the NAV and the Funds shareholders. FCA Corp and the Commonwealth International Series Trust continue their commitment to the highest level of service through ongoing reviews of their internal policies, procedures and personnel, taking action where appropriate.

While FCA Corp and the Commonwealth International Series Trust believe that these inquiries will not have a material adverse impact on the Funds and their shareholders, there can be no assurance that this inquiry and any policy surrounding or resulting from it will not result in reduced sale or increased redemption of Commonwealth Fund shares, which could increase Commonwealth Fund transaction costs or operating expenses, or have other adverse consequences on the Commonwealth Funds.

Details of Fund portfolio turnover and expenses are included with the accompanying financial statements.

In Closing: We thank you for your support of the Commonwealth International Series Trust and your continued interest. We truly value our investors and if you have questions please feel free to contact us.

COMMONWEALTH INTERNATIONAL SERIES TRUST INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR FUND'S EXPENSES

As a shareholder of the Fund, you incur ongoing costs, including management fees, distribution and service (12-B1) fees; and other Fund expenses. The example below is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The table below illustrates an example investment of $1,000 at the beginning of the period (10/31/04) and held for the entire period of 10/31/04 through 04/30/05. Please note however that this table is unaudited. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

Actual Expenses

The first section of the table provides information about actual account values and actual expenses (relating to the example $1,000 investment made on 10/31/04). You may use the information in this row, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first row under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

The second section of the table provides information about the hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), redemption fees, or exchange fees. Therefore, the second section of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher. For more information on transactional costs, please refer to the Funds' prospectus.

⁴As required by SEC standard per share data calculation methodology, this represents a balancing figure derived from the other amounts in the financial highlights table that captures all other changes affecting net asset value per share. This per share loss amount does not correlate to the aggregate of the net realized and unrealized gain and loss items in the statement of operations, which net to a gain, primarily because of the timing of sales and repurchases of the Fund's shares in relation to fluctuating market values for the Fund's portfolio.

COMMONWEALTH INTERNATIONAL SERIES TRUST

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - April 30, 2005 (Unaudited)

Note 1 - Organization

Commonwealth International Series Trust (the "Trust") is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "Act"), as a diversified open-end management investment company. The Trust currently consists of four diversified series: the Australia/New Zealand Fund, the Japan Fund, the Global Fund and the Real Estate Securities Fund (each a "Fund" and collectively the "Funds").

Note 2 - Investment Objectives

The Australia/New Zealand Fund's investment objective is to seek long-term capital appreciation and current income by investing in equity securities, debt securities, and securities convertible into common stock of Australia and New Zealand issuers.

The Japan Fund's investment objective is to seek long-term capital appreciation and income by investing in equity securities, including common and preferred stock, securities convertible into common stock, and debt securities of Japanese issuers.

The Global Fund's investment objective is to seek long-term capital appreciation and current income by investing in U.S. and foreign equity securities, debt securities and securities convertible into common stock with a general focus on established companies in countries with developed economies.

The Real Estate Securities Fund's investment objective is to seek long-term capital appreciation and current income by investing in common stock and other equity securities, including preferred stock and securities convertible into common stock, and debt securities of real estate industry companies.

Note 3 - Significant Accounting Policies

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Funds in the preparation of its financial statements. The policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

A) Valuation of Securities - Portfolio securities, including option securities, which are traded on securities exchanges or NASDAQ National Market System, are generally valued at the last sales price on that exchange prior to the relevant closing or, if there is no recent last sales price available, at the last current bid quotation or official closing price. A security, which is listed or traded on more than one exchange, is valued at the quotation on the exchange determined to be the primary market for such security. Fixed income securities are valued using market quotations or pricing services. Money Market securities are stated at amortized cost, which in the opinion of the Board of Trustees reflects fair value. In the absence of any applicable price, securities will be valued at a fair value as determined in good faith in accordance with procedures established by the Board of Trustees. For example, during the six-month period ended April 30, 2005, in one instance foreign securities in the Japan Fund were valued at fair value in good faith, in accordance with procedures established by the Board of Trustees, to take into consideration an extra-ordinary change in the U.S. market occurring after the close of the foreign market.

B) Currency Translation - For purposes of determining the Funds' net asset value, all assets and liabilities initially expressed in foreign currency values are converted into U.S. dollar values at the prevailing market rate on each U.S. business day, as established by the Board of Trustees. The cost of securities is determined by using historical exchange rates. Income is translated at approximate rates prevailing when accrued. The Funds do not isolate that portion of gains and losses on investments which is due to changes in foreign exchange rates from that which is due to changes in the market prices of the investments. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gains and losses from investments.

C) Accounting for Investments - Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date. Realized gains and losses on security transactions are based on the identified cost basis for both financial statement and Federal income tax purposes. Dividend income and distributions to shareholders are recorded on the ex-dividend date. Discounts and premiums on bonds purchased are amortized over the life of the bonds. Interest income and estimated expenses are accrued daily.

D) Federal Income Taxes - No provision has been made for Federal income taxes since it is the policy of each Fund to continue to comply with the special provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable income and realized capital gains, to relieve it from all, or substantially all, such taxes.

Dividends or interest on foreign securities may be subject to the withholding of the country of domicile's income tax by tax treaty provisions or otherwise. Generally there are no foreign taxes applicable to the Funds' capital gains realized on foreign securities in their country of domicile.

E) Distributions to Shareholders - The Funds distribute net investment income, if any, and net realized gains (net of any capital loss carryovers) annually. Income and capital gain distributions are determined in accordance with income tax regulations which may differ from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These differences are primarily due to differing treatments for foreign currency transactions and capital loss carryovers.

F) Option Accounting Principles - When a Fund sells an option, the premium received is recorded as a liability. Each day the option contract liability is valued in accordance with the procedures for security valuation discussed above. When an offsetting option is purchased (a closing transaction) or the option contract expires, the Fund realizes a gain or loss and the liability related to such option contract is eliminated. When a call option is exercised, the Fund realizes a gain or loss from the sale of the underlying security and the proceeds of the sale are increased by the premiums originally received.

When a Fund purchases an option, the premium paid is recorded as an asset. Each day the option contract is valued in accordance with the procedures for security valuation discussed above. When an offsetting option is written (a closing transaction) or the option contract expires, the Fund realizes a gain or loss and the asset representing such option contract is eliminated. When a call option is exercised, the Fund purchases the underlying security and the cost basis of such purchase is increased by the premium originally paid.

G) Forward Currency Contracts - Forward currency transactions are undertaken to hedge against possible variations in the foreign exchange rates between the United States Dollar and foreign currency. A forward currency contract is an agreement between two parties to buy or sell a currency at a set price on a future date. Forward contracts are marked-to-market daily and the change in the market value is recorded by the Fund as an unrealized gain or loss. When a contract is closed, the Fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. The Funds could be exposed to risk if the counter parties are unable to meet the terms of the contracts or if the value of the currency changes unfavorably.

At April 30, 2005, the Australia/ New Zealand Fund had outstanding forward currency contracts to buy and sell foreign currency against United States dollars as follows:

Foreign Currency Purchase Contract	Currency Amount	Value at Settlement Date Payable	Current Value at April 30, 2005	Unrealized Depreciation
New Zealand Dollar
Settlement date 05/03/05NZD 850,000		$ 625,005	$ 622,300	$ 2,705
Australian Dollar
Settlement date 05/03/05AUD 700,000		$ 548,450	$ 546,576	$ 1,874

H) Repurchase Agreements - In connection with transactions in repurchase agreements, it is the Funds' policy that their custodian bank takes possession of the underlying collateral securities, the fair value of which must be equal to the principal amount of the repurchase agreement including accrued interest throughout the term of the repurchase agreement. If the seller defaults and the fair value of the collateral declines, realization of the collateral by the Funds may be delayed or limited.

I) Use of Estimates - The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Note 4 - Investment Advisory Fees, Administrative Fees and Other Transactions with Affiliates

The Funds retain FCA Corp., (“FCA”) as its Investment Adviser. Under the Investment Advisory Agreement (the “Agreement”), the Adviser is paid a monthly fee based on the average daily net assets at the annual rate of 0.75%. During the six month period ended April 30, 2005, FCA received fees of $182,882, $37,505, $60,508 and $31,469 from the Australia/New Zealand Fund, the Japan Fund, the Global Fund and the Real Estate Securities Fund, respectively. Certain officers of the Trust are also officers of FCA Corp.

The Trust, on behalf of its series, has contracted with InCap Service Company (“ISC”) to perform specified administrative, accounting and transfer agent services for the Funds. On or about January 5, 2005, ISC informed the Trust that, effective January 31, 2005, due to the Company’s corporate restructuring, it could no longer perform the accounting and transfer agent services for the Funds. For its services, ISC receives a monthly fee based on the average daily net assets at the annual rate of 0.20% for the first $25 million in assets, 0.15% on the next $25 million, 0.10% on the next $50 million, 0.075% on the next $300 million and 0.03% on assets exceeding $400 million. The Funds are subject to minimum fees of $5,917 per month for the Australia/New Zealand Fund, the Japan Fund and the Global Fund and $5,000 per month until December 31, 2004 and then $5,917 per month thereafter for the Real Estate Securities Fund. ISC is currently earning the minimum fees. During the six months ended April 30, 2005, ISC received fees of $26,627, $26,627, $26,627, and $25,793 from the Australia/ New Zealand Fund, the Japan Fund, the Global Fund, and the Real Estate Securities Fund, respectively. Matrix Capital Group, Inc. (“Matrix”), a registered transfer agent, offered to act as accounting, transfer and shareholder servicing agent beginning February 1, 2005, subject to an agreement with the Trust. For their services Matrix received $8,875 per Fund for the period from February 1, 2005 through April 30, 2005. Certain officers of the Trust are also employees of Matrix.

Effective January 31, 2005, InCap Securities, Inc., an affiliate of ISC, resigned as Distributor of the Funds as part of the Company’s corporate restructuring. Effective February 1, 2005, Matrix Capital Group, Inc., a registered broker dealer, (the “Distributor”) has contracted with the Trust to serve as the Distributor. For its services, the Distributor receives a monthly fee of $1,667 which is the same as the previous distribution contract with the Trust. The fees are allocated to the Funds based on their respective percentage of the Trust’s aggregate average net assets for each month. These fees for distribution are paid from accruals made with respect to the Service and Distribution Plan pursuant to Rule 12b-1. For the period from November 1, 2004 through January 31, 2005, InCap Securities, Inc. received fees of $6,554. For the period from February 1, 2005 through April 30, 2005, Matrix Capital Group, Inc. received fees of $3,446. Certain officers of the Distributor are also officers of Matrix.

The Funds have adopted a Service and Distribution Plan (the “Plan”) pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the Act whereby Fund assets are used to reimburse the Distributor for costs and expenses incurred with the distribution and marketing of shares of the Funds and servicing of Fund shareholders. Distribution and marketing expenses include, among other things, printing of prospectuses, marketing literature, and costs of personnel involved with the promotion and distribution of the Funds' shares. Under the Plan, the Funds pay the Distributor an amount computed at an annual rate of up to 0.25% of the Funds' average net assets (including reinvested dividends paid with respect to those assets). Of this amount, the Distributor may reallocate to securities dealers (which may include the Distributor itself) and other financial institutions and organizations (collectively, "Service Organizations") amounts based on the Funds' average net assets owned by stockholders for whom the Service Organizations have a servicing relationship. For the six month period ended April 30, 2005, the Funds incurred Rule 12b-1 fees of $60,961, $12,502, $20,166, and $10,490, for the Australia/ New Zealand Fund, the Japan Fund, the Global Fund and the Real Estate Securities Fund, respectively. Certain officers and trustees of the Funds, who are also officers and directors of the Adviser, the Administrator, or Distributor, received no compensation from the Funds. For the six month ended April 30, 2005, trustees of the Funds who are not "interested persons" received trustees' fees of $24,000.

The Trust has entered into a Commission Recapture Agreement (the "Agreement") with Fifth Third Bank (the Funds' custodian) and Fifth Third Securities, Inc. (an affiliated broker/dealer of the custodian). Under the Agreement, the Trust may recapture a portion of the commissions each Fund pays to Fifth Third Securities, Inc. for the purpose of paying eligible expenses incurred by the Funds. Recaptured amounts are based upon a rebate calculation detailed in the Agreement. During the six month period ended April 30, 2005, the Funds recaptured expenses of $1,097, $1,629, $1,911 and $665 for the Australia/New Zealand Fund, the Japan Fund, the Global Fund and the Real Estate Securities Fund, respectively. The recaptured amounts were applied to the amounts due under a separate Custody Service Agreement with the custodian. The custodian fees caption on the statement of operations and the expense ratios in the financial highlights include the amounts that would have been incurred by the Funds for such services had they paid for the services directly in arms-length transactions. Such amounts are also shown as a corresponding reduction in total expenses, captioned as "fees paid indirectly".

Note 5 - Investments in Affiliates

The Global Fund invests a portion of its assets in both the Australia/New Zealand Fund and the Japan Fund. The Funds are considered to be affiliated under the Investment Company Act of 1940 because they have the same Investment Adviser. When computing both the Advisory fee and the Rule 12b-1 fee for the Global Fund, average daily net assets are reduced by Fund assets invested in the Australia/New Zealand Fund and the Japan Fund. Details of the Global Fund's holdings in the Australia/New Zealand and Japan Funds and related transactions during the six month period ended April 30, 2005 appear below.

	Beginning shares	Purchases	Sales	Ending Shares	Dividend Income*	Market Value

Note 11 – Other Matters

Government and self-regulatory authorities have instituted investigations of various practices in the mutual fund industry, including investigations relating to market-timing, administration and books and recordkeeping requirements, among other things. These investigations cover investment advisors, distributors and transfer agents of mutual funds, as well as other firms. Commonwealth International Series Trust and FCA Corp are currently the subject of such investigation. Commonwealth International Series Trust and FCA Corp have complied with all requests to furnish documents and testimony relating to such activity. Commonwealth International Series Trust is incurring expenses in connection with this proceeding and related regulatory activities, a portion of which will be borne by the Funds and therefore impact the NAV and the Funds' shareholders. FCA Corp and the Commonwealth International Series Trust continue their commitment to the highest level of service through ongoing reviews of their internal policies, procedures and personnel, taking action where appropriate.

While FCA Corp and the Commonwealth International Series Trust believe that these inquiries will not have a material adverse impact on the Funds and their shareholders, there can be no assurance that this inquiry and any policy surrounding or resulting from it will not result in reduced sale or increased redemptions of Commonwealth Fund shares, which could increase Commonwealth Fund transaction costs or operating expenses, or have other adverse consequences on the Commonwealth Funds.

Note 12 - Contingencies and Commitments

In the normal course of business, the Funds enter into contracts that contain various representations and warranties and provide general indemnifications. The Funds' maximum exposure under these arrangements is dependent on future claims against the Funds and is presently unknown. However, based on experience, the Funds consider the risk of loss from such potential claims to be remote.

Additional Information (Unaudited)
